Biographical/Historical Note

The status animarum is a report submitted annually by each parish to the Chancery Office of the Archdiocese of New York. The form asks pastors to provide information about the previous year's sacramental, pastoral, educational, and other work performed in the parish. The Chancery Office uses this information to compile statistics about parishes in the Archdiocese, which is then used in reports sent from the Archdiocese to the Vatican. "Status animarum" is Latin for "state of souls," and the report can be considered as a parish census. In the Archdiocese of New York, the status animarum was first required in 1925. Originally done on an annual basis, beginning in the 1970s the report was filed based on the fiscal year.

Scope & Content Note

This collection consists of all Annual Status reports collected from individual parishes in the Archdiocese of New York by the Archdiocesan Chancery Office. Although the forms vary from year to year, as a whole they record information about parishioners, sacraments, and other sociodemographic information for the previous year. The years between 1938 and 1945 are missing for all parishes. It is unclear whether no reports were required during this time, or if the records for those years were misplaced. Outside of these missing years, individual parishes may be missing one or more years. For parishes that were opened after 1925, the annual reports date from the year the parish was opened. Churches that were run as mission outposts are included in the report of the main parish.

Arrangement

This collection is arranged in ten series: I: Manhattan; II: Bronx; III: Staten Island; IV: Dutchess County; V: Orange County; VI: Putnam County; VII: Rockland County; VIII: Sullivan County; IX: Westchester County and; X: Ulster County.

The material was already organized by area and parish. The parishes were arranged alphabetically within the series.

Administrative Information

Access and Use: The collection is open to researchers who can show a legitimate research purpose for viewing the material. Archives policy states that material is closed to researchers until 50 years after creation, so some later reports may not be available. Contact the Archives for specific information. Advance appointments are required for the use of archival materials.
